

Compact Finish-Cut Hacksaw

The Klein Tools Compact Finish-Cut Hacksaw is designed to cut most plastic, wood, and thin wall metal tubing. The saw has a 10-Inch by 32 TPI bi-metal hacksaw blade that is easy to adjust and exchange by engaging the tool-free lever. The fine-grade design allows for faster deburring and smooth cuts.

Specifications

|                   |                                                          |                 |                                     |
|-------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------------------------|
| Type:             | Compact                                                  | Application:    | Standard and Flush-Cut Applications |
| Special Features: | Tool-Free Lever for Blade Exchange and Extension         | Teeth Per Inch: | 32                                  |
| Blade Length:     | 10" (25.4 cm)                                            | Overall Length: | 10.8" (27.4 cm)                     |
| Overall Height:   | 2.8" (7.1 cm)                                            | Overall Width:  | 1" (2.5 cm)                         |
| Material:         | Aluminum, Plastic, TPR Overmold                          | Blade Material: | Bi-Metal                            |
| Throat Depth:     | 0.8" (2 cm)                                              | Frame Material: | Aluminum                            |
| Handle Material:  | Plastic, TPR Overmold                                    | Handle Length:  | 6" (15.2 cm)                        |
| For Use On:       | Thin Wall Copper and Aluminum; PVC; PEX; ABS Pipes; Wood | Weight:         | 7.2 oz (204 g)                      |